What: 28-50

In a nutshell: Wine bar in Chelsea

Summing it all up: The next wine bar from 28-50 (the third in the group) will be on the King's Road. Expect European food alongside a strong selection of European wines - many of them available by the glass.

The low-down

At this stage, we're not entirely sure when restaurants will reopen - but, when they do, a new 28-50 will be joining them.

This will be the third wine bar and restaurant in the group - and this time they're opening in Chelsea, on the King's Road (taking over from the old Byron). Food-wise, it's led by Executive Chef Julien Baris and we're told to expect a modern European menu alongside extensive seafood platters.

≡ HOTDINNERS

The Chelsea location itself is on the ground and lower ground floors, with a couple of rooms downstairs that will eventually be available for private dining. There's also room for alfresco with a terrace that looks out onto a courtyard - that's probably going to get a lot of use when we open up again.
