

Jul 5, 2021, 03:00pm EDT | 430 views

London's Culture Crush: What To See, Do, And Experience In July

Felicity Carter Contributor @
Style & Beauty

Listen to this article now

Powered by Trinity Audio

--08:00

f From Harold Pinter's play, The Dumb Waiter to music festivals, and the first retrospective of famed Swiss artist, Sophie Taeuber-Arp at the Tate Modern — here's how to stay entertained this month in London.

t

in

Try the latest late night spot in South Kensington:

Independent wine specialists, 28°-50° welcome their latest Wine Workshop & Kitchen outpost in South Kensington. The new bar and restaurant, which is located Draycott Avenue in South Kensington, also offers a late-night licence and night-cap menu, making it an ideal after-hours spot if you don't want the evening to end.

Designed for foodies (the cuisine is French and modern European), expect a range of tastings, workshops, and curated dinners.

28°-50° Wine Workshop and Kitchen in South Kensington 28°-50° WINE WORKSHOP & KITCHEN

"We are delighted to have opened our fourth central London wine workshop & restaurant. The mixture of international and local residents fits our relaxed - but serious - take on food, wine and service. We are really pleased to now be open on Draycott Avenue in South Kensington." Richard Green, Founder

Address: 28-50 Wine Workshop & Kitchen, 96 Draycott Ave,
London, SW3 3AD