

Looking for somewhere to grab a bite to eat after hours? Whether you're in the market for some post-pub fuel or just fancy avoiding the peak time crowds, London's late-night dining scene is thriving, boosted by the introduction of the Night Tube (and Uber). We've collated some of the best late-night restaurants in the city, from Mayfair to Brixton.

28°-50° South Kensington

Offering an exclusive Late Night Menu, diners can choose between an array of delectable dishes, from sharing platters including cheese and charcuterie boards to delicious bites like the Truffle arancini. Meanwhile, your drink will never be empty thanks to the impressive champagne trolley and the wide variety of classic cocktails on the Night Cap Menu. A restaurant made for late night diners. 2850southken.co.uk