FOOD & DRINK

MARYLEBONE IS ONE OF LONDON'S MOST FASHIONABLE AREAS, SO DINE IN STYLE ON YOUR DOORSTEP WITH THESE OPTIONS

JUNSEI

132 Seymour Place

Meaning 'pure', Junsei's traditional yakitori, combines simple, but soulful flavours from savoury to sweet. Surrounded by calming interiors, choose from a range of sharing plates from tebasaki (chicken wings) to okra and eryngi-mushroom. Junsei's delivery service, Tamashi by Junsei, blends modern flair with ancient technique at home.

OTTOLENGHI

63-65 Marylebone Lane

Both a deli and restaurant, colourfully inviting displays on those iconic white counters await. Expect everything from mezze feasts to delicious granola and fresh juices to start the day. No reservations required. ottolenghi.co.uk

VILLAGE BITES

Top to bottom: Visit the latest St. JOHN outpost; taste reimagined classics at Chiltern Firehouse; indulge in Junsei's tasty traditional yakitori with cocktails on the side

SCHOOLS

Marylebone's excellent schools take advantage of the cultural riches on their doorstep, with the arts being prominent. For ages 10-15, The Sylvia Young Theatre School on Nutfield Place (syts.co.uk) combines high academic standards with world-renowned drama, dance and singing. Alumni include Amy Winehouse, Rita Ora and Billy Piper. The arts are also strong at Queen's College (qcl.org.uk, inset) on Harley Street, with its prep school on Portland Place (qcps.org.uk). Established in 1848, it educates from reception to year 13. 'Old Queens' include creative powerhouses Gertrude Bell, Jacqueline du Pre and Dame Anna Wintour. Portland Place School (portland-place.co.uk) is a nurturing co-ed for 10-16 year olds, with small class sizes. St Marylebone CE School on Marylebone High Street offers an education grounded on Christian values (stmarylebone.school), from year 7 to sixth form. And on Marylebone Lane, Wetherby Senior offers boys aged 11-18 a strong global outlook, with many leavers attending world-class institutions outside the UK, especially North America (wetherbysenior.co.uk).
