Words: The Review Team

We've taken in the fusion architecture at the Heinz Julen Loft, the vast remoteness of Chalet F'Net, the modernity of Chalet Dalmore. We've even played a few holes at San Lorenzo Mountain Lodge. Whether you're in need of a middle-of-nowhere atmosphere, a sense of visual architectural drama or an on-piste alpine retreat par excellence, here's The Review's must visit list.

Chalet Inoko, Val d'Isère

Overlooking Val d'Isère from a privileged position just above the central 'Petit Alaska' area, Inoko's location tucked away in the trees is immensely private and yet just a short chauffeured minibus ride from the snow front and the resort's infamous shopping and restaurant scene. With splendid views and a snowy forest backdrop, it is hard to imagine a more magical setting for a winter escape. The chalet's crowning jewel is its magnificent top floor, with double height ceilings and enormous windows flooding the room with light. The majestic stone fireplace and opulent seating area are a wonderful place to gather with family and friends for canapés and champagne.
